44 Whales Stage Mass 'Hara-Kiri'

CRUSCENT BEACH, Fla., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Forty-four whales swam out of a rough ocean and deliberately beached themselves today in an apparent mass suicide.

Most of the mammals, which ranged in size from seven to 14 feet, died quickly as they were rolled over the sands by the rough surf.

A few remained alive and efforts were made to drag them back into the water.

Curators said that several times in the past, whales have beached themselves along the Florida coast in unexplained "hara-kiri" fashion. When they were towed back into the water, they swam heading into shore again.

Thousands of persons watched workers attempt to get the mammals back into the ocean.

Reds Drop Live Bombs Near Berlin

Believed Part Of Large Scale War Manoeuvres

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—British Flyers engaged in the Berlin air lift today they had seen Russian planes drop live bombs in the Soviet occupation zone about 12 miles northwest of Berlin.

There is a possibility the reported incident might have been part of large scale Russian air manoeuvres announced for today over the Soviet zone, Berlin and Allied air corridors, including bomber flights.

The German press several months ago reported that Russian planes or manoeuvres dropped live bombs on a small town, causing some casualties.

The British flyers related the incident to the four-power Berlin air corridor. Last month, British and American flyers on the Berlin supply run reported no incidents in the corridors up to 2:30 p.m. although the Russians had announced there would be no flights over Berlin, and gunnery and parachute jumping in the corridors.

The miners' leader also appears to get a boost in pay.

Several resolutions have been introduced to increase his salary from $25,000 to as much as $75,000.

The resolutions which seem to be favored would fix the constitutional pay of the president at $50,000.

More strong winds, followed by slightly cooler weather, are forecast for Edmonton region today and Friday.

Indians Even Series Beating Braves 4-1

Bob Lemon Hurls Team to Victory

Cleveland, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Bob Lemon, Cleveland pitcher, beat the Boston Braves 4-1 today by a heart-breaking 1-0 score yesterday.

Manager Lou Bednarik, who went hitless in Johnny Sain's opening victory, led the Indians with a sparkling day effort and hit his double started a two-run surge in the fourth and he drove home the third run off southpaw Warren Spahn in the fifth. He started one double play in the middle of another, made a fine catch of a pop fly in the short center field in the seventh and picked a man off second.

Lemon, accomplishing what his more famous pitching mate, Bobby Feller, failed to do, came through with a series win in his first start because the Indians were able to handle Spahn, Lemon, a 20-game winner in the regular season, struck out five men and walked three.

First inning

Indians—Mittell fouled off Spahn's first pitch, then raised a foul fly to Elliott in front of the Braves' dugout. Clark looked at two strikes and a ball and then went down swinging. Elliott made a neat pickup of Boudreau's slow dribbler past the mound and tossed him out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Braves—Holmes watched two strikes breeze by, they tapped weakly back to the mound and Jones threw him out on the ground.

Lemon's first pitch on the ground in the eighth inning was a high fly to Elliott in front of the Braves' dugout. Clark looked at two strikes and a ball and then went down swinging. Elliott made a neat pickup of Boudreau's slow dribbler past the mound and tossed him out.

Lumber Price Higher Than After 1st War

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—(CP)—An Edmonton lumber dealer of 40 years' experience told the Prices Commission today that the present upward climb of lumber prices is similar to that after the first world war—but more prolonged.

Arthur J. Brown, president of W. H. Clark Lumber Co. Ltd., quoted from a price schedule dating from 1914. The highest price for spruce 2x6s after the First World War was $60 a thousand. Today's price in Edmonton was given as $72.

Peak in May 1920

Peak lumber prices after the first war were reached in May, 1920, Mr. Brown said. Today, more than three years after the Second War, they still are rising.

Mr. Brown found one line in which 1920 prices were higher than today's. First-grade maple flooring, which cost for $10 a thousand in 1914, cost $12 in 1920. Today's price is $20.

He said that cedar siding has become so expensive since the end of price control that his firm rarely handles it now. Spruce siding was a satisfactory substitute, provided it was painted on the reverse side—before being put in place—as well as on the face. The double-painting was necessary to keep it from curling.

DEMAND PREMIUMS

Mr. Brown said that operators now demand premiums of $6 to $10 over the last Prices Board schedule for spruce prices. War-time housing led to a prepared to pay a premium of $12.50.

"That's why we can't get it," he added.

Iran City In Partial Ruins

TEHRAN, Iran, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The shrine city of Meshed was reported in partial ruins today following an earthquake which killed 200 persons and injured thousands.

Dispatches to the newspaper Kishan said the quake struck at Tuesday midnight, caused great damage to the historic Iranian city, 600 miles east of Tehran.

In Meshed, the Soviet news agency Tass announced last night that the earthquake had struck around Ashkhabad, capital of Soviet Turkmenia.

Meshed lies just south of the Turkmenia border.

Council Finance Body Frowns on New Arena

Prospects for the erection of a new Edmonton arena were set back Wednesday when the Finance Committee of the City Council Commission.

Supporters of the arena scheme appeared before the committee to present a plan for a 11-acre north of Kingsway and west of the city limits. The plan was presented by the Royal Alexandra Hospital, which would be made available for the entertainment centre.

The triangular area, bounded by 101st and 111th avenues and Kingsway, is a one-family dwelling district and is being subdivided from sale. Because of the location, it would be necessary for its use for the arena as well as a change in the tentative long-range plans of the commission.

It is contemplated, Alderman Parsons said, to construct an arena with 10,000 capacity and costing more than $1,250,000.

It is proposed that the management be organized as a private corporation and stock would be sold to the public.

Daughter of Gun Victim Financed Flight to U.S.

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., Oct. 7.—(CP)—The rifle he gave as part of the fare to Alaska for himself and his daughter was the gun that killed John McComas, 52 of Dayton, Ohio, a jury was told yesterday at the murder trial of Gustave Weigner.

The accused, a 29-year-old Dayton salesman, is charged with the slaying of his fellow townsmen on the remote Alaska Highway last Aug. 9.

In a statement given police and read to the jury, Weigner told of accepting $125 and a 22 calibre rifle to transport McComas and his 15-year-old daughter Louise to Alaska, where the girl was to be sent to school.

Weigner said he accidentally shot McComas with the rifle when they stopped to hunt squirrels.

Earlier in the day, the blonde, green-eyed Louise testified Weigner and subjected her to indecent assault, but not criminal assault, after she emerged from the highway bus.

"Weigner told me: 'I have shot your father!'"

LOUISE CONFLICTING

Louise's testimony concerning Weigner's conduct toward her after the shooting was conflicting. She said first that Weigner emerged from the woods he led her to the army, told her wrist to a log Soviet Turkmenia.

LEWIS' BIRTHDAY NATIONAL HOLIDAY

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The United Mine Workers (U.M.W.) convention today unanimously adopted a resolution to make John L. Lewis' birthday—Feb. 12—a national holiday in the coal industry.

The resolution climaxed a movement started several years ago within the union to make Lewis' birthday a memorial holiday.

The anthracite agreement, covering about 80,000 Pennsylvania hard coal miners, already has provision for that observance.

The miners' leader also appears to get a boost in pay.

Several resolutions have been introduced to increase his salary from $25,000 to as much as $75,000.

The resolutions which seem to be favored would fix the constitutional pay of the president at $50,000.

Sub-Committee Appointed To Study Six Proposals

PARIS, Oct. 7.—(CP)—The United Nations political committee today decided to shelve temporarily discussion on the east-west deadlock over control of atomic energy.

BALLOON TEST OF HEIGHT

TORONTO, Oct. 7.—(CP)—If you see a policeman coming at you with a balloon, the chances are you're a little high.

Dr. W. C. Nuebelberger, chief of the Michigan State crime laboratory, last night decided the balloon—the newest test of drunkenness—to members of the police, legal and medical professions.

The breath, trapped in the balloon, is tested for alcoholic content.

"The best doctor in the world can't just take one look at a man and say whether he's drunk or not. But these tests are infallible."

The test now is being used in police in Michigan, New York, Maine and Oregon.

Girl Here Awaits Detained Fiance

She said the alien English girl, "when I received a letter from him in Manitoba, telling me what he had done, 'I hope he'll get out of there as soon as he can, I hope he'll stay in Canada,' she said with a hint of tears in her Oklahoma home.

"We're tired of adventures and delays and I want to get married as soon as we can get it."

It was late at first sight when the then 19-year-old Ellen met her Ken at a London dance in 1944, sponsored by the music-publishing firm for which they both worked.

Darling was already in the Merchant Marine but, as a result of prolonged action at sea, was on a six-month rest period.

They "WENT STEADY" From that time on, said Miss Newsham, they kept steady company while Darling was in port. She said permission has already been granted allowing Ken to leave the merchant marine.

Her father, Herbert G. Newsham, is a chef at the Macdonald hotel and she resides with her parents and her brother. Family came here, she said, because Mr. Newsham's uncle, Ernest Newsham, 11406-79 street, had already been in Edmonton for over 40 years.

Today, at Emerson, Darling, awaiting the decision of Ottawa authorities in his appeal against a deportation order, said:

"I just want to get things straightened out and get to Edmonton so Ellen and I can get married as soon as possible."

And Miss Newsham echoed this when she said:

"I do so want him here and I hope with all my heart that your prime minister will be lenient."

Wedding March Is Slow Canter

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Oct. 7.—(AP)—The bride and bridegroom came forward at a slow canter to speak their vows, instead of the wedding march, there was just the creaking of wheels as the lay right to the justice of peace stand.

Miss Dorey Douglas and Harold Dorey were so fond of saddle horses that they were married on horseback. Their relatives witnessed the hazy ceremony on foot.

By 47 votes to none, with five abstentions, it appointed a sub-committee to "attempt to reach agreement on a resolution on the next step to be taken."

The sub-committee was told to study six proposals already made to the main committee.

COMPROMISE PROPOSAL Chief of these is the compromise Soviet proposal conceding that banning of atom bombs and their destruction should come into effect simultaneously with a treaty providing "effective international control of atomic energy."

The committee decided to debate in the afternoon a Soviet proposal that the "Big Five" should reduce all armaments by one-third.

It postponed choosing members of the sub-committee.

REDS FOUGHT HARD In nearly three hours' debate during the night of Oct. 6, the Soviet Union, supported by other eastern countries, fought hard to charge the sub-committee with the task of striving for "general agreement" on the question of atomic control.

This was opposed by Warren Austin, United States representative, who insisted the sub-committee should not be asked to do more than examine proposals already made to the committee and draft a resolution on what further action should be taken.

Victim's Daughter Proposed Flight

and subjected her to indecent treatment.

She said later in the trial that she had never treated her roughly, nor had he molested her in any way.

Louise said after Weigner told her about the slaying, she produced her father's money, $10,000 bills, and suggested they go home to the United States and buy a cafe in Kimball, Neb. It was there the two gave themselves up to police and told of the shooting.

Weigner said in the statement that he paid $750 for the cafe, and lived in the back room, as brother and sister, Kenneth Fritzler, Kimball county attorney, told the jury the pair reported the McComma shooting only after Weigner's claims involved in a second shooting affair.

CONCENTRATED SEARCH He said the former owner of the cafe had attacked Weigner with a shotgun, over a money argument, and Weigner had defended himself with his small-bore rifle, wounding the man in the leg.

On Weigner's subsequent information, police led a concentrated search in the Alaska highway wilderness and finally found McComma's body, one arm missing and the other torn away, presumably by wolves. There was a bullet hole behind the right ear.

Inspector Gordon J. Duncan of the British Columbia police, who found McComma's body, testified that the fact the pair left it pointed to wilful killing.

In his statement, Weigner said "we both knew we should tell the police, but we were afraid."

Tin was known to the Phenicians and Romans.

Six 'Neutrals' Favor Lifting Of Blockade

PARIS, Oct. 7.—(CP)—Six members of the United Nations Security Council not involved in the Berlin crisis were reported today solidly in favor of raising the Soviet blockade.

An authoritative source said that was the first reaction of the six countries—which included Canada, the United States and France—presented their charges against Russia to the full council. The western powers charged that the Berlin blockade threatens world peace.

Thus far, the source said, no resolution has been prepared, but the first requirement in easing the crisis is a causal policy after which the Russians to lift the blockade.

The other neutrals on the council are China, Syria, Belgium, Colombia and Argentina. The Soviet Union is siding with Russia against hearing the case in the Security Council.

A British source said last night representatives of the three western powers met informally and considered the first steps of framing a proposal that the Security Council call on Russia to lift the blockade.

The council is expected to meet again Saturday or Monday to continue the debate on Berlin.

Margarine Battle Enters Third Day

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—(CP)—The battle of margarine rolls into its third day before the Supreme Court of Canada today for those opposed to the 65-year-old ban on the butter substitute having their say.

Senator Stanley Hayden is expected to complete his submission that the legislation is beyond federal jurisdiction. The seven-man court then will hear argument of others who advocate the freeing of margarine, which now cannot be imported, manufactured or sold in Canada.

The case arises from a senate motion calling for a reference to the supreme court to determine the legality of the legislation, adopted in 1986. The government agreed to the senate request two months ago, but decision on the current hearing may not be announced for a month or more.

Senator Hayden is appealing for Senator W. D. Esler, Liberal member from Ontario, who long has opposed the ban. Others to be heard include the Canadian Association of Consumers and the Province of Quebec.

Virginia Snowfall STAUNTON, Va., Oct. 7.—(AP)—The first snow of the season in Virginia, about two inches, fell on Snowy Mountain in Highland County yesterday.

power met informally and considered the first steps of framing a proposal that the Security Council call on Russia to lift the blockade.

The council is expected to meet again Saturday or Monday to continue the debate on Berlin.

The storm, at 120-mile-an-hour peak, caused an estimated $100,000 damage on Okinawa.

Edmonton Air Goal Rumored Nearer Commerce Chamber Hears Ranges Moving North

Edmonton Chamber of Commerce drive for main line Trans-Canada Air Line service for Edmonton was spurred Wednesday by rumors of movements of radio range stations in the south of B.C. to Alberta.

Officials of the Chamber of Commerce said unconfirmed reports advised them range stations which had been used on a line between Cowley and Vancouver are being moved into line with Calgary and Vancouver.

They said the reports will be investigated and if found to be true the Edmonton group will endeavor to have them moved farther north on to a possible route from Edmonton to Vancouver.

A survey of potential air traffic in the area by TCA in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce, it was reported.

Result of this survey may dictate future action with regard to a direct air line service from Edmonton to Vancouver.

The aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce was also named the "Air Show Committee" to investigate the possibility of staging an air show at Edmonton in 1949 in conjunction with the RCAF and the USAF.

Farmer Gets $587 Damages

A Right-of-Eway settlement of $587 was granted to Joseph Meek, farmer, near Woodburn, who had land Imperial Woodland No. 1.

The settlement was made by a ruling of the Right-of-Eway Arbitration Board.

The board ruled that value of the land must be taken into account when awards for surface damage and rentals are being made.

On the other hand, it was pointed out that value of oil has nothing to do with awards.

The board ruled that land in the Woodland field is not comparable in value with land in Imperial Woodland area, where a quarter section award will bring a much higher price.

Findings of the board showed land, musky and peat on the farm in question and that the land around the well site had never been cultivated.

The board covering 4.82 acres gave the farmer $587.30 for the first year and $172.30 for each subsequent year to cover rent and income.

A warning to home users of oil burning equipment for heating and cooking has been voiced by the Western Canada Insurance Underwriters' Association in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week this week.

While such equipment offers many advantages, the report said, it involves fire and explosion hazards which are not sufficiently recognized by the public.

"In oil burner, when the proper type, properly installed and maintained is a safe and reliable device," the underwriters' statement declared.

To ensure this reliability," the statement continues, "the Underwriters' Laboratories and the Canadian Standards Association have laid down standards for the proper construction of burners and have instituted a factory inspection service to ensure that such standards are adhered to."

"Concerns subsisting to this service," they declare, "ensure the public that their products are reasonably free from the ordinary hazards involved."

The Underwriters' Association says that buyers purchase only tested and approved equipment and have it installed by a trained and responsible workman or firm.

Expert maintenance, they say, is vital and should be obtained immediately when any defect in operation becomes evident.

They also recommend burners not be left alone when starting up, and suggest a fuel arrangement which includes any possibility of spillage of oil.

Gov't Employing Of Reds Opposed

Civil Servants Assembly Takes Stand at Meeting

By Kay Rex
OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—(CP)—The Civil Service assembly of the United States and Canada said today it is "opposed" to employment of Communists in the public service "on any level."

The 600 delegates attending the assembly's four-day annual conference approved a resolution that Communists and Communist-dominated organizations be denied membership in the assembly.

RED INFILTRATION

Blaine Hoover, personnel director for the Chicago Park District and now on loan to the United States administration in Japan, described Communist infiltration in the Japanese civil service.

Although Communists were only a "thin slice" of the Japanese population this small minority went to work in the early days of U.S. occupation.

"Led by men who could shoot... the Communists gained control of some government units and then, under a system of pyramid elections within the units, this Communist group with its program of strike, struggle and sabotage, came into control of some of the largest units of the government."

Despite the Japanese situation which U.S. authorities now are striving to change, Mr. Hoover said, "Mores and procedures must be so framed that the bureaucracy can never paralyze, defeat or usurp the functions of government itself."

HEADS ASSEMBLY

George Jackson of Ottawa, director of organization and classification of the Canadian Civil Service Commission, was elected president of the assembly. He succeeds Mr. Hoover and is the first Canadian president in 11 years.

A second Canadian, Charles Bird, chairman of the CSC, was named a lifetime member for "distinguished contributions" to the organization.

HANNA, Oct. 7.—An unusual thing happened on Highway No. 9 east of town, just after daylight on morning recently. Two gas trucks were heading west when the driver of the second truck suddenly saw the truck ahead switch ends and head straight for his truck.

He swerved his vehicle to avoid a collision and ran over a skunk. That little animal had been the cause of all the manoeuvres. The first driver had seen the skunk on the road and had tried to dodge it and his truck had spun around and headed back.

The second driver did not see the black kitty, but soon found out that it was there. Damages amounted to—one dead skunk.

Managers of Lou Boudreau Tagging Phil Masi Cause Controversy

Cleveland Indians Won't Protest on Close Play

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—(AP)—"It's a shame to ruin such a beautiful pitching performance by one decision."

That was the only complaint voiced by Cleveland manager Lou Boudreau after the Indians, beaten 1-0 in the opening World Series pitting duel between Johnny Sain and Bob Feller, trooped silently into their dressing room.

The decision he referred to was on a close play at second base in the eighth inning when Phil Masi, apparently tripped off base, slid back safely under Boudreau.

"I thought I had him. I tagged him on his shoulder. But that's just my opinion. Stewart (umpire Bill Stewart) had him. It isn't a complaint," Boudreau said evenly.

Feller, who allowed only two hits in his first World Series game but lost 1-0, was even more terse in his comments on that particular play. "Take a look at the pictures of it," he remarked grimly. "We thought we had him on the trap."

It's Track Time In Public Schools

It's track and field time in the public schools. Running, jumping and ball throwing set the scene Wednesday afternoon as pupils from seven north district elementary schools went through their paces at Clarke Stadium.

SPORT

By STAN MOHRER, Editor

Life Begins at Thirty

There would be much joy down Havana, Arkansas, way along about mid-afternoon Wednesday. And in the Sain household, particularly, Johnny's mom and pop would be hard put to it to turn their minds to anything but the doings in distant Boston a few hours earlier.

"Just imagine, our Johnny a World Series hero," mom would be saying. And then maybe both would remember that it hadn't always been with their favorite son.

For Johnny Sain took longer to get to the top than the average workman who is destined to win undying fame in the greatest and most colorful of all sports spectacles.

Just about the time the Braves were wrapping up the pennant in Mr. Ford Frick's National league late last month the hero of yesterday's thriller celebrated his 30th birthday. In behind him were close to 10 seasons of professional baseball, with an additional three years in the army service to go with them.

No callow youth, this lantern-jawed right-hander whose blazing crosstire curve had the Indians carrying on like a palet of fugitive from the Three-Eye loop.

Earned Spurs the Hard Way

Oseola is a hick town, not many miles distant from where the hurler was born. In his vein was born. Back in the 1936 season young Johnny Sain pitched in 11 games for the Oseola entry in the tiny class-D Northeast Arkansas circuit. This was his debut.

Amazingly enough, in view of his tremendous feats in the majors over the past three seasons, adding to 65 mound triumphs in all, Sain was destined to spend four terms prepping in his class-D surroundings.

Then Nashville of the swifter Southern purchased his contract to start the 1940 season and he was on his way. He was in Boston two years later, only to have his career interrupted by the war.

Mustered out of service the eager Sain went to spring training with the Braves as preparation for the 1946 season. In the subsequent campaign he blossomed into a 20-win star, his Oseola days all but made up for by this time.

In retrospect there's little reason to doubt but that Johnny Sain mastered the tricks of the pitching trade while in the service. Oseola had the advantage of a man who won only four games in the 1942 season returned to win over 20 his first year back in baseball harness.

But no matter. He had all the answers Wednesday as the 1948 World Series got underway.

A Mickey Finn For Judnick

Fittingly enough Sain saved his most potent knockout punch for the last hitter of the game, the dangerous Walt Judnick.

In the eighth inning manager Billy Southworth of the Braves had done everything but get down on his hands and knees as the Beantowners finally broke the scoring ice with a long awailed run.

Then he turned over to Sain, by this time just three putouts away from realizing a lifetime ambition, a victory in the World Series. Mike McCormick took the dangerous Boudreaux's long smash back near the wall for the first out and rookie Al Dark made it two in the rack when he gathered in Joe Gordon's pop up.

Then came Bob Elliott's high heave on Keltner's shoulder and the tying run was on second base. A homer might win it all for the Indians.

Then and there it resolved itself into a Sain vs Judnick situation. Three times John Franklin of the Arkansas Sains reared back and let fly. It was all over. Judnick and the Indians were out of there.

But Sain and the Braves were in there—and who knows—maybe to stay.

Henry Roche, league president, will be in charge when representatives of the teams of the Big Four inter-city baseball circuit meet at Red Deer today.

Members of the league will be the proposed entry into the circuit of two teams from Lethbridge. The franchisees are expected to be the players to give Lethbridge representation have been asked to make formal application at this time, the application to be backed up by certain guarantees.

John Ducey and John Beatty, lessees of Red Deer Park, were to accompany Mr. Roche in Red Deer as representatives of the two Edmonton entries, Cubs and league champion, Eskimos.

Hershey, Pa., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League Wednesday night defeated Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League 5-4 in an exhibition game.

Several of the Bruins' regular players for the Bears, a Boston farm club.

Pete Bahand led the scoring for the Bruins with three goals.

Torchy Peden, Cur Racing Eighth

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Angelo Di Bacco and Cesare Morelli of Italy held a two-lap lead in Buffalo's 12th international side-kick race Wednesday night, 24 hours after the start.

Second after 965 miles had been covered by Hugo Kato and Walter Diggelman of Switzerland.

The Canadian team of Torchy Peden, Victorino, and Jean Civi, Montreal, was in eighth place.

Henry Martel Comes Home From Pacific Coast Saunt

Henry Martel didn't win any money in two Pacific coast golf tournaments but he found the experience well worthwhile, besides picking up several helpful hints.

The Highlands' professional who returned home early Wednesday, accompanied by his wife, played in both the Canadian and Portland Opens in the course of a two-week visit to the coast.

"FRIENDLIES" YET He said the Portland tournament, started at the Portland Golf Club and won by Fred Harp, of Oregon, was the "friendly" one, in that he never had played. Odds, food and refreshments were all supplied free of charge by the tournament committee and everything else possible was taken care of for the golfer.

The Portland course proved a good test of golf. Narpur in his first round, shot a 72 in the final at the Portland.

H. Martel finished the Portland 72-hole joint in 297, nine strokes off par, representing a much better showing than in his Canadian open at Vancouver. There he was eliminated at the end of three rounds. After averaging 75 for the first three rounds, he ended a par 72 in the finale at Portland.

In the Vancouver tournament, he had the pleasure of playing with E. J. (Dutch) Harrison and J. Turney in the opening round.

Martel played three practice rounds with Walt McGillicuddy of Vancouver, amateur sensation of the Canadian tourney who finished eight strokes back of Chuck Congdon, the winner.

His golf "STEADIER" He said the golf poster was "steadier" now than when he was in the Canadian Amateur two years ago when Martel took top honors.

The Highlands' pro was disappointed that a three-year professional tour of the Pacific Northwest participating in the Canadian Professional Golfers Association tournament at Vancouver's Point Grey Course, in two practice rounds over the course, Martel carded a three-over-par 75 and a 66.

Pete O'Hara, Mayfair Pro, also played in the Portland Open, according to Martel.

Rangers Edge Providence 2-1

THREE RIVERS, Que., Oct. 7.—(AP)—New York Rangers had to go all out Wednesday night to squeaker out a 2-1 decision over the American Hockey League Providence Reds in an exhibition game before 2,200 fans.

A loose puck that got away from defenseman Art Michalak in the center ice zone allowed Edgar LaPrade to race in all alone for the winning marker.

Kreier Returns to Old Love On Rimstad-Maher String

More and more it appears that Elmer Kreier has taken over at left wing on the line with Mory Rimstad and Bill Maher.

Wednesday night, as Flyer hopefuls were split down the middle for purposes of an inter-camp play-keep-tilt, the one-time Shadow operated big as life in Johnny Black's old spot.

Not that playing the wing is anything new where Kreier is concerned. In his record books this winter, he spent more seasons patrolling the territory over near the boards than winning it up and down occupied last season.

While no one kept a very accurate account the "Blues" were up for being counted a 10-1 triumph over the "Whites." In last evening's inter-family squabble.

Keith Woodall was in the nets for the winners, with Doug Lane and Bud MacPherson at the defense posts. The Andersons' chok-Merik line operated as a unit up front as Don Stanley with winger Lou Holmes and Harold Raymond.

Canadiens End Saskatchewan Trip

REGINA, Oct. 7.—(CP)—Dick Brown, National Canadiens of the National Hockey League last night completed three Saskatchewan exhibition games with Whites scoring a 4-2 victory over Reds before a crowd of less than 1,000 persons.

Three goals by little Billy Reay highlighted the White victory, the centremen scoring twice in the second period and adding his third—the only counter of the season—in the third.

Robertson scored second in the last minute of a full first period for the Reds while the all-regina junior line of Smith, Stanger and Greenough noticed Reay's second goal in the second session, Smith leading 2-1 in the White's net.

Canadiens have one more exhibition game at Winnipeg before leaving for the east.

Although it is the oldest continent geologically, Australia was the last to be occupied by white men.

His territory extends from Smoky Lake to Vinland, north to the northern border of township 60 and goes south to the Saskatchewan River.

Earlier this year Mrs. J. C. Godman of Covington, Ky., started to write a local daily bridge column in the Cincinnati, O. Post. Tournament bridge in Cincinnati has a large following. There are several life masters there and a number of champions. Mrs. Godman and Mrs. L. Goddard of Cincinnati, won the national women's pair championship in Chicago last August, the second year in a row that they have carried off the title.

Comment—
Today's lesson hand is taken from the national women's pair contest. The four and five no trump bids were Blackwood bids asking for aces and kings. Seven clubs could have been made quite easily. But Mrs. Godman said, "Back fever got me." She stopped at six no trump, and she had to make it or lose the championship.

She won the opening lead of the four of spades with the ace. Spade overall showed the king of spades and probably the king of diamonds. At this point Mrs. Godman asked the ace and king of hearts in dummy and neither the queen nor the jack fell. Now Mrs. Godman straight club tricks, getting all of the hands down to the three cards which are unplayed.

West had to keep the king and one diamond, otherwise three diamonds would be good. Mrs. Godman led the jack of diamonds, throwing West in the lead and forcing her to lead from the king-into dummy's ace-queen.

Frost Damages Very Late Crops
ESTHER, Oct. 7.—Harvesting operations are continuing and anxious farmers are hustling to get the crops in the granary before the first snow flies. Heavy frosts, last week, damaged many of the late crops to such an extent that many losses of bushels of grain will be lost. The green kernels shrivel up when frozen.

The prairie couple is becoming extremely cold this year and some have been reported stealing chickens and tame fowl in broad daylight.

City Committee Approves New Set of Land Sale Rules

Matter of Commissions To Realtors Is Tabled

Land sale regulations recommended by Edmonton City Commissioners were, in the main, endorsed by the Finance Committee and recommended for approval by City Council at a meeting of the Committee held Wednesday afternoon.

The Commissioners' recommendations were presented at the last meeting of City Council and were then referred to the committee for further consideration. Only feature of the recommendations not given committee approval was the Commissioners' proposal to eliminate or halve commission paid to realtors. This was tabled for further discussion.

Recommendations receiving the committee approval call for an increase on the price of residential lots to 100 per cent of assessed valuation; that the cash discount be eliminated and interest on unpaid balance be reduced to four per cent; that the practice of accepting reservations on land awaiting the installation of sewer and water facilities be continued; and that the policy of withholding lands in the outer zone from sale also be continued.

Speaking against the elimination or reduction of commission to real estate dealers, Andrew Whyte, of the Real Estate Dealers Association, stated the city would achieve a greater saving by raising prices on real estate than by cutting out the commission.

Mr. Whyte proposed that a committee of three responsible real estate dealers be named to confer with the City Assessor, regarding new assessed values on city property.

City Commissioner John Hodgson advised that a reassessment was due to commence in the new year and that if considered advisable, advantage might be taken of the dealer's offer.

Tale of a Wayside Inn Has Different Versions

Sequel to a tavern brawl at glass, causing fatal injuries to a waitress, was the version of the alleged assault. Stolarchuk on the witness stand gave his version of the alleged assault.

He said he attended a sports day in June 21 with his two brothers. Leaving his brothers in his car he went inside the beer parlor.

"Koldy slugged me with a glass in the face just after I stepped inside the door," he told the court. After a fight lasting five minutes

Stolarchuk was taken to Smoky Lake hospital where his wounds were stitched, he said. Koldy told a different story on the stand.

Severely contended he was actually the victim of an attack by the Stolarchuks and was merely defending himself.

Television for Edmonton In 4 or 5 Years Forecast

Advent of television does not mean the supplanting of radio but rather the supplementing of it, said Fred W. Macdonald, commercial vice-president of the RCA Victor Company at the Macdonald hotel Wednesday night.

In his address to 65 Northern Alberta RCA dealers, he said that he if any families in the United States want television to the exclusion of radio and phonographs.

Of the television situation in Canada, the RCA executive said a decision would probably be reached

Fill Family Larder

By Bea Thrifty

Much ado about condition of the family larder these austerity days centres on the meat problem.

It's been so long since we've had a T-Bone steak at our house that even the memory of the elusive mids is.

But with game season at hand, guess who's locker in one of the local freezers is jammed full of ducks and other fine-feathered friends of the woodland.

Deep freezers... if I had half an hour of time picking out a home freezer.

Much in use in the United States, they're on the very verge of becoming a popular home appliance.

Manufacturers have filled our homes with time-saving appliances. Now they're busy whipping together "miser" as we won't have to call our little larder heating cases, lifting flour in everything.

Much as we go back to admit it, many of the packaged things produce goodness just as fast. Just as fast, light, delectable, smooth and nutritious as if you'd slaved over a hot stove for a good part of the day.

For instance the packaged muffins are good, so are the gingerbread, various puddings and what not.

You can do so many, many things with the pudding mixes.

For instance, a pennycuise pudding that will delight the child can be made like this:

Use one package of vanilla pudding, one small tin of tangerine juice for the orange and grapefruit mix will use one egg white and two tablespoons sugar.

Prepare pudding according to directions on the package, using citrus juice instead of milk. Pour into small dishes. Top with meringue.

To cook the meringue, drop by spoonfuls into a shallow pan with the bottom just covered with hot water. Bake in a moderate oven about 10 minutes.

It's really about time I've made comment on the seeds of rye for the request for a reliable meringue.

I seem to have been doing several things the wrong way.

For instance, I wasn't using enough sugar.

For another I wasn't beating the eggs until they were stiff enough.

From the recipe I gathered there were many ways to produce a meringue.

Some called for one tablespoon of sugar to each egg white.

Some called for one egg white to each egg white.

Some called for one egg white to each egg white.

Some called for one egg white to each egg white.

WHY GROW OLD

Career Women Have Many Health Problems

By Josephine Lowman

The woman who works in an office has special problems in health and good looks. She must spend the better part of each day at work which cannot be put off or done in pieces. She cannot stop to lie down or put off until tomorrow what seems too much for today like the woman in the home can, at least to some extent.

She is somewhat handicapped in diet if she eats many of her meals out and has little time for exercise and exercise. The upkeep in good grooming is more expensive in time and in money since her clothes get such constant use.

Here are a few suggestions which I hope will be helpful to the career woman. If you eat out part of the time and at home part, cook your own vegetables because these you buy in a restaurant are usually cooked in large amounts and in lots of fat, which is later drained off. In this way the vegetables you buy are low in vitamin and mineral content. Eat meats and green salads out and vegetables at home. This is a problem in time if you use frozen vegetables. Also increase your consumption of fresh fruit.

It is particularly important for you to have a short routine of exercise, morning or night, if you hope to have the best health and to avoid that "offire broom" side. The office worker should make it a point to get outdoors as much as possible on week-ends. A sport is helpful. She would

She has a special problem in skin lubrication if her complexion is dry and should use a good night cream, since she cannot use makeup during the day. It is refreshing to use one of the little face cleansing pads at mid-afternoon if possible and a change of makeup in most offices it is possible to slip away for a few moments for some stretching exercises and eye exercises can be taken right at your desk.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Faulty Relationship
Between Father and Son

By Myrtle Meyer Edlund

Sometimes, the observant person sees a little drama of real life which reveals a whole and state of family affairs. If she considers it reprehensible it may depress her, but make her more alive to her own conduct.

Mrs. C. N. feels that there is little doubt but that the way a parent acts may ruin a child's future. "Recently we were dining out," she writes, "and I noticed a sweet-faced mother and thin, blonde, nervous boy of about five or six. He had ordered a chicken dinner for his father and he looked the waitress to arrange the plates.

The father sat down with a look of cold reserve for the world at large and particularly for his son. He would not look her way. The boy was frigid, if not actually malignant. Once he caught the boy by the shoulder and shook him and the boy turned red and looked disgruntled. The father then heroically stiffened his lips and chin.

The boy finally put his hand placatingly on his father's arm and he withdrew it as if a repulsive touch had jumped on him. The waitress said the boy ordered his father's dinner four nights in succession and the father was always late and spent as little time as possible with them. The boy had fasted and then he would only wonder what the outcome would be."

One has to do a lot of guessing on this slim evidence. It is possible this is a crystallized and not a real father and he has no real affectionate interest in the boy. There are men, fathers, too, who are ill at ease with children and cannot get along with them. Such a man might feel repelled by a timid, effeminate boy as the latter seems to be, wishing he were more boldly aggressive.

Our letter, No. 62, "Nervous Habits," indicates their relation to the child's environment. It may be bad by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Edlund, care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Rearing A Family

Can Be Joyous Job

My mail is filled with letters from women complaining about the monotony of rearing children.

I wish that I could impress upon these women the fact that making a home and rearing children properly is the finest career that anyone can follow, and the one that pays the highest rewards.

We get out of everything just what we put into it, and whether a woman is bored or thrilled by home-making depends altogether upon herself and the spirit in which she goes into it.

A woman's home can be a prison to her that she hates and loathes. Or it can be the dearest spot on earth in her, the place to which she turns to as a temple of refuge. She can live every second in it.

She may find a never-ending interest in beautifying it, and plan over every chair and pot and pan, and find finer happiness in keeping it spotless.

Or a woman may pity herself for being a drudge because she has to do her own housework. She may be bored to tears by the eternal sameness of cooking, cleaning and sewing and doing all of the things that have to be done over and over again every day to keep a family comfortable.

Or she may bring the same intelligence to bear upon her house as she would upon her job in any office. She may keep herself keenly interested in devising interesting ways of performing her tasks.

Head High Keeps Double Chin Away

One of the most reliable instincts a woman can follow when she sees the first signs of a double chin in her mirror is to hold up her head. If she'll hold her head upright, that is, and in perfect alignment with her body—she can evade the grasp of age on her throat.

The next strategic step which she will need to take, however, is to slap on her night cream with renewed vigor. The line has really around her neck—bravely with the back of the hand—when the youthful line shows signs of slipping. This spanking routine should be the windup of a nightly creaming ritual devoted to the face and neck.

An effective trick which helps to keep the fleshy area of the chin firm is this: turn the shower spray on it full force when you take a bath. Gradually change the temperature of the water from warm to cold as you throw back your head and allow the spray to spout full force under the chin and over the neck area.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Brochu and Mr. and Mrs. O'Flaherty left by plane on trips to Calgary, Banff and Lake Louise. Mrs. Brochu wore a steel blue heretice suit with maroon accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. O'Flaherty chose a silver grey sabbatine suit with wine accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Constant Care For Best Figure

One way to determine the shape of things to come in new fall fads is to slide up to a long mirror and get a good profile view of your figure.

Many of the new clothes cling to the figure in front and release fullness at the back. This back fullness may hide bumpy shoulders, offer little camouflage for a bulging tummy.

Here is one exercise designed to strengthen the muscular activity which will provide the firm support as a stout corset. To take it, lie stretched out straight on your back on the floor with your head cushioned by clasped hands. Now hook your toes under a heavy footstool or chair to hold your feet down. Then on the count of one, slowly pull yourself up to a sitting position, while keeping your back straight. To the count of two, return to your stretched-out position. Repeat the sitting-up and lying-down routine five times at first. Increase to 10 times as muscles grow stronger.

Thanksgiving Can Be Gourmets' Delight

Traditional Family Dinner
Chance to Indulge Palate

Since its first small beginnings in the land of the Pilgrim Fathers, Thanksgiving has developed into one of the few typically North American festivals.

Traditional at Thanksgiving time is the family dinner party... and what a wonderful occasion for filling the palates of your guests with typically North American dishes!

If you don't happen to be among the lucky shoppers who managed to snaffle off one of the few available turkeys for the mainstay of your dinner, don't despair. With all the wonderful game the hunters are bringing home these days, an one need do without fowl for Thanksgiving.

Now, don't tell me you are one of those people who turn up their noses at wild duck and say "I don't like game." It's so... so... so... gamey! Maybe you just don't know the tricks of the trade! It's instance, did you know that the flavor of orange is delectable with duck? Try an orange stuffing, or a simple orange salad as an accompaniment.

Wild rice and hominy are the traditional companions for duck. Turnips and green peas are the suggested vegetables to go with them. Some people insist on a tart jelly or apple sauce but if it's a continental touch you're craving... a mellow wine of the Cabernet or Burgundy type enhances the flavor no end. Some of the saucy and stuffings I've come across are right out of this world!

At Christmas it's plum pudding. In July it's strawberry shortcake... but the pumpkin pie reigns supreme among desserts in the harvest season. As North American as corn on the cob, pumpkin takes many delicious forms. An ordinary pumpkin pie, topped with whipped cream and rusky honey, dizzied sprightly, is really lush.

But you don't have to take my word for it. Here are some of the recipes I've been raving about. Try 'em yourselves!

POAST DUCK
Weigh, dress, stuff and truss ducks, allowing at least one-half duck per person. Place on rack in roasting pan, season, place strips of bacon over breast. Pour into pan one cup boiling water and one cup salt. Roast in hot oven 20 minutes to the pound and 20 minutes extra. Baste frequently. Serve with gravy, currant jelly and apple sauce. Garnish with steamed apple rings and parsley.

POTATO DRESSING FOR DUCK
2 cups hot dried potatoes, 1/2 cup salt, 1/2 cup pepper, 1/2 cup grated onion, 1/2 cup butter, 2 cups milk, 1 egg yolk, 1/2 cup chopped parsley. Mix in order given and beat until very light.

ORANGE STUFFING FOR DUCK
3 cups dry bread crumbs, 1 cup dried apple, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 4 cups sugar, 2/3 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup salt. Mix ingredients and add liquid to make a moist and easily handled, but not wet, dressing.

SAUCE FOR WILD DUCK
1 glass green grape jelly, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup lime juice, 1/2 cup dry mustard, 1/2 cup sherry. Melt the jelly, add a pinch of salt, the butter, lime juice and mustard. Beat well and just before serving mix in the heated sherry.

DUCK FRICASSEE WITH BUTTER SAUCE
1 young duck (multiply recipe to suit yourself), 1 onion chopped, fat for frying, 2 cups peanut butter, 2 sweet red pepper or pimiento, 1/2 cup cayenne, 1/2 cup mushrooms, 1/2 cup salt.

Separate duck into serving portions and cook in just water to cover until slightly tender. Take from kettle, drain, roll lightly in flour and fry in butter with 1/2 cup finely chopped onion, until very tender or slightly browned.

Mix peanut butter with stock in which the duck was cooked, add seeded and chopped pepper, cayenne and salt. Pour this over the fowl and let simmer. Half cupful of cut mushrooms will further improve flavor.

HOMINY
Let cold water run over one large can of hominy, then drain. Make a sauce of 3 cups butter and one of flour. Blend gradually, then pour on two cups rich milk, stir and let cook for 5 minutes. Season with salt and pepper. Place the hominy mixed with the cream sauce in a double boiler and cook one half hour. When serving, sprinkle generously with chopped parsley.

PUMPKIN ICE CREAM PIE
Scald 2 cups cream. Pour over the yolk of four eggs, which have been beaten light, with 1 cup brown sugar and 1/2 cup cornstarch. Cook over boiling water until the consistency of custard, adding a pinch of salt. Remove from fire and add 1/2 cup mashed pumpkin, which has been mixed with 1/2 cup cinnamon, 1/2 cup powdered ginger, 1/2 cup nutmeg and 1/2 cup grated lemon rind. Beat well over a pan of cold water.

When thoroughly chilled, fold in two cups whipped cream, to which has been added one cup chopped nuts, and 1/2 cup finely minced preserved ginger. Freeze until firm. Fill a large baked pie shell with stiffly frozen mixture, just before serving. Have a meringue of stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, pinked with a little milk; pinch of salt. Beat flour, salt and baking powder. Cut butter into mixture. Add beaten egg and a little milk to the meringue. Roll out and line tin. Spread with pineapple marmalade or jam.

Cover with following:
Beat one egg. Add 9 cup sugar and 1 tablespoonful of melted butter. Add to this from 1 1/2 to 2 cups strained cream.

Spread on top of marmalade. Bake in moderate oven 150 degrees 15 minutes. Until nicely browned. When cold, cut in squares.

Bride Wears Azure Blue

Autumn flowers decorated the Douglas Memorial Church recently for the marriage of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Gilbertson, daughter of Mrs. Anna Gilbertson and the late Mr. C. C. Gilbertson of Sisseton, to Andrew Gustaf Carlsson of Boston, B.C., son of Mrs. Ed. Carlsson and the late Mr. Andrew Carlsson of Sisseton, B.C.

For her marriage the bride chose an afternoon frock of azure blue with navy blue accessories. She carried a bouquet of white baby's breath and white baby chrysanthemums. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Betty Sims.

Following the ceremony the reception for 60 guests was held in the Masonic Temple where the mother of the bride and groom received with the wedding party. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gilbertson wore a gown of navy blue with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Carlsson chose a gown of turquoise blue.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and tall white tapers and bouquets of sweet peas. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Lin Jordan.

Amidst a shower of good wishes the happy couple left for a honeymoon trip in Banff and Vancouver. For travelling the bride wore a smart tailleur of burgundy wine with navy accessories to tone up her shoulder corsage was of white gardenias. Later the bride and groom will be at home at Boston Bar, B.C. space and light.

Higher Quotas Are Possibility

By Cecil Jackson

Higher quotas for Leduc and Woodhead oil fields are a possible outcome of a public hearing in Calgary next Wednesday. Officials of the Alberta Petroleum and Conservation Board will hear arguments for and against raising the present quotas of 100 barrels per day for D2 zone wells and 150 barrels daily for wells taking oil from the D3 formations.

Main basis for an argument in favor of increasing the quota is the record of Atlantic No. 3. The wild well gave over 1,000,000 barrels of oil in a few months with no sign of formation water. Some independent operators maintain that in view of this performance present quotas are unnecessarily low. The public officials are concerned only about producing the oil in a manner that will give the largest possible ultimate recovery.

Oil fields never give up all the oil they contain. In the past it has been considered good if half of it has been brought to the surface. Some fields still have three-quarters of the original oil after the last well has been abandoned.

LOW WASTAGE AT LEDUC
Before the oil can be brought to the surface it has to flow into the well. Usually the force that causes this movement is the natural pressure. Some of the gas escapes with each barrel of oil that is produced. In Leduc and Woodhead the quantity of gas wasted per barrel of oil is comparatively small. About 400 cubic feet compared with up to 80,000 in Turner Valley—but early this week.

Styrene Now Used In Making Paints

HUFFALO, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Styrene, the synthetic chemical during the war for making critical rubber, is being combined successfully with linseed oil to produce rapid-drying paints and varnishes. Styrene, Kellogg, and Sons Incorporated announced Wednesday.

July Crude Output Exceeds Million

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—(CP)—Canadian production of crude petroleum in July exceeded the million-barrel mark for the second successive month, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday.

Total for the month, a new high, amounted to 1,123,233 barrels, compared with 1,088,486 in June and 1,020,262 in July, 1947. Output for the first seven months aggregated 6,604,244 barrels compared with 6,212,443 in the same period last year.

The sharp advance in June and July was due for the most part to the heavy production from the Leduc field. The July output from this field was 542,838 barrels, compared with 388,929 in June, 25,600 in July last year, Turner Valley produced 345,083 barrels, compared with 248,713 in June and 238,834 in July. The monthly total for Alberta rose to 1,088,486 from 1,000,000 in June and 945,039 in July, 1947.

Coarse Grain Prices Display Firm Tone

WINNIPEG, Oct. 7.—(CP)—Oats and barley futures prices showed a firm tone in trading on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Especially in the October contracts, which neared advances.

Barley buyers, United States and local interests were evident in oats and barley. Light of trading in the October contract continued to the uptick. Offerings were more plentiful than a few routine trades in flax. No exports were reported.

Producers of two wheat-for-oats contracts were reported to be in the market for a few days. The wheat-for-oats contract was reported to be in the market for a few days. The wheat-for-oats contract was reported to be in the market for a few days.

Chicago Grain Up Two Cents

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Grain showed some signs of life today, climbing fractionally to a couple of cents on expanded volume.

Chief factors in the advance were expectations of export firmness tomorrow and steady demand for corn and oats in the cash market.

Cash corn jumped around two to five cents, but gains in futures were fractions of a cent. Corn, No. 2, 1948-49, 1.13 1/2. Corn, No. 3, 1.13 1/2. Corn, No. 4, 1.13 1/2. Corn, No. 5, 1.13 1/2. 11-Year-Old City Youth Enters Contest
 Picked into the mail bag this morning and noted there was no more letters with name up getting for me.
 Thanks a lot all you wonderful people.
 Got a little hang out of one of the letters—it was addressed to "Mamie M. personally. So she was under the circumstances. It would be quite all right for me to get it, but it would give me as big a name as the name suggestion being submitted.
 I read.
 Dear Mamie M., as you can see I am submitting a name suggestion. One that will appeal to you and mine and receive other folks' opinion. It may be short, and catchy too. Appropriately so, to suit just you. So here it is, I hope you like it. For you're Al. M. Gitter, the Bulletin.

Woodworker Dispute Goes To the Courts

VANCOUVER, Oct. 7.—(CP)—Both sides of British Columbia's (factual) woodworker's dispute, involving the 40,000 loggers of the province's big timber industry, today turned to the courts to iron out the strife.

The leftist B.C. district court, who broke away from the International Woodworkers of America (CIO) and formed an autonomous organization, sought leave of the supreme court to cross-examine James E. Fading of Portland, Ore., international president.

FADING CHARGES

Fading has charged in writs served on the rebel loggers with President Ernie Dalhousie and Secretary Harold Pritchett and Secretary Bert McInnes, that the district council has not accounted for more than $100,000 in its books. His writs from all sources and properties of the B.C. district, led by the trio, all prominent Labor Progressive Party leaders.

The rebel unionists, who have formed the Woodworkers Industrial Union of Canada, stated through counsel that they wanted to cross-examine Fading before Friday, the day his injunctions become invalid.

WITH PARENT UNION

The 1,500-member Mision local, the 700-member Nanaimo local and the New Westminster group of 3,100 have voted to remain with the parent union.

However, the provincial labor relations board has ruled that the rebel union must apply for certification and have a vote taken before it is a legal bargaining unit. Leader Ernie Dalhousie claimed no referendum was necessary.

Mine Union Plans Hospital Program

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The United Mine Workers of America announced the start of a multi-million-dollar program of medical and hospital service for miners and their families.

The miners' New York contract, effective July 5, provided for establishing a welfare and retirement fund financed by a 25-cent collection on each ton of coal produced.

A $100 monthly pension for 62-year-old miners with 20 years service was established but the union, in addition, is embarking on a vast hospital program to be financed by the contract royalty.

"The plan is to take care of all the medical problems from having a baby to cancer," explained Josephine Barry, director of the welfare fund.

AUTOIST LIVES AFTER PLUNGE OF 400 FEET

HOPE, B.C., Oct. 7.—(CP)—A man who plunged 400 feet down a precipitous slope on the new Hope-Princeton highway in an automobile was rescued yesterday after spending the night trying to clamber up to the top.

The death of his companion, 21-year-old Thomas Shells of Mission was revealed when a motorist saw Robert J. Nash, 21, dragging himself up the highway.

Their car missed a curve on the highway three miles east of here during the night, fell 300 feet to the old Princeton road and bounded another 100 feet down the bank.

Shells, who was driving, was severely and instantly killed. Nash, who is in hospital with skeletal and facial lacerations, fought his way up the slope for 8½ hours.

Australians Plan Probe

CANBERRA, Australia, Oct. 7.—(Reuters)—Arthur Fadden, country party leader, yesterday described a threat to parliamentary privilege by the action of Prime Minister Chifley in directing the security department to investigate activities of members of parliament.

Chifley had announced that the security department is investigating the possession by Fadden of a confidential document, alleged to have stolen, giving details of talks between Chifley and the British cabinet Aug. 7.

The document had been produced by Fadden in parliament last week. Chifley said the security department had also been told to find out how information about the document could get into the possession of "at least a number of people in parliament only on the net" parliamentarians and others.

Capital of Manchuria Abandoned To Reds

NANKING, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The government announced yesterday it has abandoned Changchun. The Manchurian capital had been turned into a military liability by months of Communist siege.

It is believed President Chiang Kai-Shek made the decision in order to concentrate government strength against the growing Red peril in north China and south Manchuria.

Some experts believe Chiang also may be ready to let troops to quit Mukden and fight south into China proper.

The abandonment of all Manchuria is reported to have been urged often by United States military advisers in Nanking. They want the government to bring all its force to bear in North China, clear out the Communists and then fight back into Manchuria, a great industrial prize.

There has been no indication, however, that the government means to leave Mukden. Lt. Gen. Teng Wen-Yi, military spokesman who announced the abandonment of Changchun, said fresh troops have arrived at the south Manchurian port of Huliao.
